March 2022

Looking to stay busy in March?

Look no further, here are some fun things to do during the break:

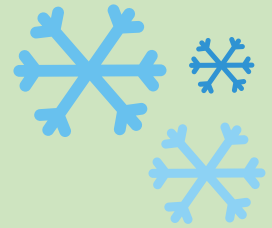

Go hiking with friends and family

There are tons of trails around Hamilton that are accessible by public transit or biking. Chedoke trail, and Hamilton Waterfront trail are a few to check out!

Shovel snow in the neighbourhood

This is a great way to get active and help out your community. You could even get volunteer hours!

Visit your local library

There are a ton of resources at your local library as well as online. If you want to use their quiet space to get some work done, or hang out with friends, you can (masks on, of course.) Did you know you can rent movies and video games there too? Work hard and play hard!

Why are mountains the funniest place to travel over March break?

Because they are hill-areas!

Congratulations SHAD Scholarship Recipients

We are excited and proud to announce that we had three SHAD Scholarship award recipients this year!

Pathways Canada's partnership with SHAD provides an opportunity for Pathways program participants who are interested in STEAM (Science Technology Engineering Arts & Math) to apply to receive a summer camp SHAD scholarship that fully covers the costs to attend a university campus from locations across Canada. Once there, students stay for the month of July, participate in cross-campus challenges, learn and speak with professors and special guests as well as develop their social, leadership and community building skills.
